Reeb Millwork Chooses FrameSaver

Bethlehem, PA –Reeb Millwork, a supplier of wholesale building products, has chosen FrameSaver®, "Rot Proof Solutions for your Home™" as their new product line. FrameSaver is another way that Reeb helps their customers eliminate air and water infiltration into the home.

Located in Nacogdoches, Texas, FrameSaver is known for their rot-resistant, moisture proof, wood door frames. The FrameSaver® technology features wood door frames fingerjointed with a revolutionary wood composite material made from a combination of recycled sawdust and virgin plastics. FrameSaver is the only wood door frame that eliminates callbacks for the building and construction professional. Guaranteed. Featuring a rot proof guarantee, the FrameSaver® technology is available in entry, patio and garage door frames. FrameSaver was acquired by Endura Products, Inc., leading manufacturer of entry door component systems, in December 2005.

Bruce Procton, President of Endura Products, Inc., said, "The acquisition of FrameSaver is a continuation of our goal of providing innovative products, solutions and services within the building products industry through internal growth and complementary acquisitions. The combined offerings of Endura and FrameSaver improve our ability to give our customers, the builder and homeowners products which solve real world problems relating to door unit performance."
